INTRODUCTION

During the period January 1, 2011 through August 1, 2021, the individuals listed below engaged in criminal activity by acting individually and collectively in a largescale covert scheme to defraud the Columbus Zoo of over $2,290,000.00. The Columbus Zoo is the jewel of Delaware County. Upper management of the Columbus Zoo including but not limited to its CEO, CFO, and Director of Marketing hijacked the purse strings of the Columbus Zoo, colluding to conceal the nature of their spending or thievery which amounts to more than $2,290,000.00 of Columbus Zoo money on the following:

- a. Concert tickets
- b. Tickets to sporting events in the Columbus area and elsewhere
- c. Golf club memberships at Kinsale and Wedgewood
- d. Trips to Germany, Hawaii, Great Wolf Lodge
- e. Clothing, sports equipment
- f. Meals, beverages, and alcohol
- g. Electronics
- h. Furniture
- i. Services
- j. Miscellaneous non-Zoo related items, e.g., iTunes, SiriusXM
- k. Motor vehicles
- l. Suites, loges and special seats at Nationwide Arena and the Schottenstein Center
- m. Entertainment tickets

all for personal or family use.

To accomplish the theft, three key members of management, Defendants Stalf, Fingerhut, and Greg Bell, conspired to develop and execute a way to mask the personal spending so that they could live off Columbus Zoo money. When it came time to pay for the tickets, suites, loges or food, beverages and alcohol related to those events, it was agreed upon that coding would be used such as: tickets for board members and donors, meals for board members or donors, food and drinks for donors, food and drinks for board members, and one that Fingerhut liked the most, "promotional support." By using these codes, reasons, or excuses for the charge on a Zoo-owned credit card or a Zoo Check Request form as a reason that the Zoo should cut a check to pay a bill, these officials were able to get past the accounting system and checks and balance system which the Zoo had in place so that they could steal in excess of $2,290,000.00.

The Zoo has/had a policy in Section 6.3 of its employee handbook which provided:

"Purchasing Personal

Items: Personal items cannot be charged to the Zoo. This is true regardless of whether or not the charges incurred are subsequently reimbursed back to the Zoo by employees."

This policy was grossly violated.

To further accomplish their scheme to defraud the Zoo, Greg Bell, Stalf, John Doe 1, and Fingerhut stole from the Zoo's barter system. The Zoo had a barter account. The account was managed by barter management companies IMS and ITEX, each of which operate similarly. The Zoo "sells" or lists for exchange tickets to the Zoo, Zoombezi Bay, and the Safari Golf Course on the barter account and, in return, receives credit to spend at other vendors within the barter network. This arrangement has been in place for several decades. If a vendor such as an office supply company wanted to trade office supplies for Zoo tickets, such would occur. The Zoo's credit balance increased significantly over the years since there were fewer reciprocal options for the Zoo to spend its credit. Stalf, Fingerhut, Bell and others stole Zoo assets or money from the Barter account to go to sporting events or on trips, i.e. Game 6 of the 2016 World Series, high end bicycles, party buses or a family vacation in Florida.

To further the scheme to defraud, Fingerhut threatened a Zoo vendor, Business 1, with harm to it unless it paid him $10,000.00 in 2019 and $10,000 in 2020. For nearly a decade Fingerhut victimized Business 1 by exploiting Business 1's relationship with the Zoo for his personal benefit to pay for gift cards, vacations, expensive cigars and other items. Further, Fingerhut and Greg Bell, with the knowledge of Stalf, instructed Business 1 to falsify billing invoices to the Zoo so that the Zoo would pay for personal expenses of Fingerhut, Greg Bell, and Stalf including but not limited to a birthday party, entertainment, trips, tickets to sporting events and other expenses.

To further accomplish their scheme to defraud, upper management treated Zoo cash, Zoo alcohol, Zoo beer, and Zoo assets as if he or they owned it.

Once the Board of Directors of the Zoo ordered those in charge of operating the Zoo to cease purchasing tickets, seats, suites, and loges, Fingerhut had vendors receive a bill from Nationwide Arena, PromoWest or the Dublin Irish Festival and pay the bill themselves, then bill the zoo for the amount of the invoice from Nationwide Arena. PromoWest or the Dublin Irish Festival thereby hiding the true reason for the expenditure.

To further the scheme to defraud and/or to further his stature with the Zoo and in the community, Stalf demanded favors, services or other benefits from Business 4, a zoo vendor.

THE ENTERPRISE

This Enterprise is an association and/or organization and/or a group of persons and/or companies associated in fact, although not a legal entity, including but not limited to Tom Stalf (former CEO of the Zoo), Greg Bell (Former CFO of the Zoo), Peter Fingerhut, John Doe 1, Jane Doe 1, Jane Doe 2, John Doe 5, John Doe 6, Business 5, Grant Bell, and others known and not known all of whom are persons associated with the Enterprise (collectively, "Persons associated with the Enterprise" or "Persons"). This Enterprise existed as an "Association in Fact Enterprise" under R.C. Section 2932.32 because it: (1) was an ongoing organization with a commonality of purpose or a guiding mechanism to direct the organization or (2) was a continuing unit with an ascertainable structure and/or (3) had an organizational structure that was distinct from the pattern of predicate acts. As an alternative to point (3), this Enterprise is an illicit enterprise under R. C. Section 2932.32 because it had an organizational structure distinct from the pattern of predicate acts whether or not this enterprise performed any legal acts. The persons and/or companies associated with the Enterprise performed, from time to time, some lawful acts while working for entities connected with the Enterprise, and as a result, this Enterprise existed separate and apart from the pattern of corrupt activity described in this Indictment.

A. THE PARTIES

1. Thomas “Tom” E. Stalf was the CEO of the Zoo until he resigned in the Spring of 2021. Stalf had free rein to operate and control Zoo operations thus hiding his conduct and the conduct of others from the Board of Directors.
2. Gregory “Greg” D. Bell was the CFO of the Zoo until he also resigned in the Spring of 2021.
3. Peter “Pete” A. Fingerhut was the Director of Marketing of the Zoo until he was let go in early 2021.
4. John Doe 5 was a Zoo employee who arranged for Tom Stalf to meet John Doe 4 of Business 4.
5. John Doe 4 owns Business 4. Business 4 and John Doe 4 provided Stalf with benefits in return for work at the Zoo.
6. John Doe was a person who worked for the Zoo.

B. THE PLAN OF THE ENTERPRISE AND ITS HIERARCHY

The plan of the Enterprise and its function was to steal money from the Zoo and/or to “shake down” vendor(s) or threaten directly or indirectly such vendor(s) so that the executives who ran the day to day operations of the Zoo could enrich themselves and to hide what they were doing using an elaborate scheme of deception and to continue to steal money and services. Enrichment occurred in many ways including but not limited to: sporting events, food and drink at sporting events, vacations, directly pocketing cash, and motor vehicles. Many benefited from this thievery, some unwittingly, including spouses, relatives and adult children of these men.

The primary tool used to enrich themselves was the Credit Card Authorization or Usage form or the Check Authorization form used by the Zoo to pay its bills. Defendant Fingerhut had his expense reports approved by CFO Bell. CFO Bell had his expense reports approved by Defendant Stalf and Defendant Stalf had his expense reports approved by CFO Bell. The three conspired to create a system of abuse whereby the three men, minimally accompanied by John Doe 1, were successful in exercising control by deception of more than $2,290,000.00 in Zoo funds. CFO Bell signed most if not all of the authorization forms knowing that the forms were fraudulent. In some instances, not only was the reason for the expense false, the expense itself was false. When Zoo staff questioned questionable expenses, their questions were ignored. When Greg Bell attempted to follow the law and provide Stalf and Fingerhut with an income document, Bell's job was threatened by Stalf. The Board of Directors was not aware of and did not endorse the conduct of Stalf, Bell, Fingerhut, or anyone else who may have broken the law in this Enterprise.

In addition to the Credit Card Authorization or usage form and the Check Authorization form, members of this Enterprise stole the following, often times with the knowledge of one another: alcohol, beer, items offered for exchange on the Barter network such as high-end bicycles, Game 6 World Series tickets, cash, services such as satellite radio, patio furniture, clothing, golf clubs, a safe, an RV, vacations, barter items, party bus rides for birthdays and weddings and other items.

In addition, Zoo funds were deceptively used for family vacations, trips to Germany, Florida and Hawaii, traveling to Oklahoma for an Ohio State vs. Oklahoma football game, and several questionable trips to Florida, Tennessee, Washington D.C., New York, and other places.

Within the scope of the Enterprise and to further it affairs, Fingerhut, Stalf, Greg Bell, and John Doe 1 were aware of the contents of the Zoo employee policy handbook which in part in Section 6.3 provided that:

“Purchasing Personal Items: Personal items cannot be charged to the Zoo. This is true regardless of whether or not the charges incurred are subsequently reimbursed back to the Zoo by employees.”

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further is affairs, Fingerhut, Stalf, Greg Bell, Grant Bell and John Doe 1 possessed or had access to credit cards which were in the name of the Zoo and for which expenses related to the Zoo could be purchased.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut used his Zoo-issued credit card to make thousands of dollars of purchases of goods, items, or personal property at Kinsale Country Club and Scioto Reserve.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, members of the Fingerhut family also charged personal items to the Zoo-issued credit card possessed by Peter Fingerhut at either of these two golf courses, such as boxing classes, clothing, and alcohol.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, when complaints about Fingerhut and his family spending Zoo money at these country clubs were made to Stalf, Stalf ignored them.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Tom Stalf and/or his family used his Zoo-issued credit card to make thousands of dollars of purchases of goods, items, or personal property at Kinsale Country Club and Scioto Reserve and use the credit at such clubs to supply food and beverages to friends of their children.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, Greg Bell and/or his family used his Zoo-issued credit card to make thousands of dollars of purchases of goods, items, or personal property at Kinsale Country Club and Scioto Reserve.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut falsified credit card authorization forms or check authorization forms by placing false reasons for the expense on such form thereby masking or concealing the true expense so that that the Zoo would pay for Fingerhut to carouse, travel, eat, socialize, and further conduct his personal life.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf falsified credit card authorization forms or check authorization forms by placing false reasons for the expense on such form thereby masking or concealing the true expense so that that the Zoo would pay for Stalf and his family's personal entertainment, socialize, and further conduct his personal life.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Greg Bell falsified credit card authorization forms or check authorization forms by placing false reasons for the expense on such form thereby masking or concealing the true expense so that that the Zoo would pay for Bell and his family's personal entertainment, socialize, and further conduct his personal life.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut negotiated the leasing of a suite and a loge at Nationwide Arena knowing it would be for personal use for himself, Stalf, Greg Bell, John Doe 1, and their families.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut negotiated the leasing of a suite at the Schottenstein Center knowing it would be for personal use for himself, Stalf, Greg Bell, John Doe 1, and their families.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut, Stalf and Bell at one point in time signed the leases in question. Fingerhut specifically requested that the Zoo name not be placed on the suite or loge as is customary thereby concealing the fact that the Zoo, a non-profit 501(c)(3), leased a suite.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut used a falsified Credit Card Usage form or Check Authorization or Usage form to purchase tickets at Nationwide Arena, at the Schottenstein Center, at other venues in the Columbus area, to travel to Norman, Oklahoma for an Ohio State/Oklahoma football game, and to purchase alcohol, food, and beverages at Nationwide Arena, the Schottenstein Center, Huntington Park, and other entertainment venues in the Columbus area, as well as restaurants, bars and similar establishments in Ohio.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut, Greg Bell, and Stalf converted and spent more than $1,800,000.00 of Zoo money at Nationwide Arena, the Schottenstein Center, Huntington Park, and other similar venues over a period of time on personal expenses at hockey games, concerts, baseball games, basketball games, or other events at these venues.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, John Doe 1 and Stalf used Business 5 as a strawman to sell personal vehicles to the Zoo at a profit, concealing the fact that it was the Zoo buying their personal car(s).

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, John Doe 1 purchased vehicles for the Zoo using Business 5's name. Business 5 then sold such vehicles to the Zoo at a price determined by John Doe 1 and Greg Bell and at a profit for Business 5. Business 5/John Doe 5 on several occasions kicked money back from the sale of these vehicles to John Doe 1 or a member of his family.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf stole bottles of alcohol and beer from the Zoo warehouse for parties at his personal residence several times a year over a 5 to 6-year period of time.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf, Greg Bell, and John Doe 1 used the Zoo barter system to enrich themselves by having the Zoo pay for items on the barter system for their own personal use such as World Series Tickets for Stalf, high-end bicycles for Stalf, limo rides for Stalf, limo rides for John Doe 1 or members of his family, personal items for Greg Bell and/or his family, and condos for a Florida vacation for Stalf and his family.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, John Doe 1 and a member of his family started a family business run by John Doe 1 and a family member and, concealing the identity of ownership of this business, provided a service to the Zoo which was unnecessary. In addition, John Doe 1 overbilled the Zoo for the services he performed and used the Zoo credit card he possessed or had access to, to buy the goods and materials for this company to operate. Greg Bell was aware of this operation and permitted it to happen.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf purchased an RV with Zoo moneys, having Greg Bell wire the funds to the seller under the pretense that the RV would be housed at the Wilds in Muskingum county and used at the Wilds when in fact Stalf converted the RV to his personal RV. Stalf used the RV to travel to Put-In-Bay for a weekend and other places.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, Greg Bell and Stalf rented Zoo-owned real estate to family members at far less than the fair market value of the rental value of said property, and furthermore, the Zoo paid to remodel the property Stalf had his relatives live in and paid for the patio furniture for said property through the Barter system.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, the Zoo paid for satellite radio for the personal vehicles of members of this Enterprise including family members and/or their spouses.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, John Doe 4 paid Tom Stalf benefits including trips to sporting events on an airplane John Doe 4 leased and constructing a barn addition at a loss to Business 4.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, after John Doe 4 provided Stalf with benefits and agreed to and did provide more benefits to Stalf, Stalf awarded John Doe 4/ Business 4 with a $2,300,000.00 no bid contract.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, after the construction of several cabins at the Wilds, Stalf ordered Greg Bell to pay John Doe 4 the sum of $125,000.00 to pay for a change order with no supporting data, four months after the final payment was made on the contract for the full approved amount of the project and during a time when Business 4 was in financial trouble.

Within the scope of this enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf ordered Greg Bell to pay the suspicious change order mentioned above almost immediately after Zoo/Wilds staff began to question the alleged change order in violation of Zoo payment protocol.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut solicited in December of 2018 and in December of 2019, and received each time, $10,000.00 in cash from Business 1.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut advised Business 1 that unless it provided him with $10,000.00 in December of 2018 that the contract that Business 1 had with the Zoo would be put up for bid and a competitor of Business 1 could get the contract.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Fingerhut then bought representatives lunch or dinner when he was extorting $10,000.00 from them and billed the expense of the lunch or dinner to the Zoo under false pretenses. He did such on consecutive years and also placed on his outlook calendar that he was meeting that these people.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Greg Bell and Fingerhut coerced Business 1 into paying for Fingerhut's wife's birthday party. Further, Fingerhut coerced Business 1 into paying for a hundreds of dollars of gift cards for Fingerhut as well as a Hawaii vacation for Fingerhut and his family, a trip to Germany, and Fingerhut's table at the Dublin Irish Festival.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Peter Fingerhut cut and pasted vendor invoices, changing the true purpose of an invoice into a false purpose such as "Promotional Spending" so that Fingerhut could trick the Zoo into paying for his personal expenses.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Peter Fingerhut and Tom Stalf generated income for themselves which is reportable as 1099 income. When the Form 1099 was prepared and in the process of being provided to them by Greg Bell, Stalf threatened to fire Bell if Bell handed them or him the 1099. Further, the 1099 was destroyed or not provided.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf and Fingerhut committed Tampering with Records by lying on their Federal and/or State Income tax returns by not reporting income earned.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, after developing a scheme to defraud the Zoo Stalf, Greg Bell, and/or Fingerhut used a telecommunication device or telecommunications devices to email data or records in furtherance of their scheme to defraud.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, after developing a scheme to defraud the Zoo, Fingerhut induced Zoo Vendors to use a telecommunication device or telecommunications devices to email data or records in furtherance of his scheme to defraud the Zoo.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Peter Fingerhut lied to State Agents when he was interviewed by State Agents in May 2023.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Greg Bell, Fingerhut and Stalf conducted or attempted to conduct a transaction with the purpose to promote, manage, establish, carry on, or facilitate the promotion, management, establishment, or carrying on of corrupt activity, to wit: theft, when they conducted a credit card or check transaction concerning their true expenditures at Nationwide Arena, the Schottenstein Center or other similar places.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Greg Bell pocketed cash from the sale of Zoo property.

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, Stalf used the Barter system to:

1. Secure Les Misérables Tickets for his wife
2. Secure Game 6 or other World Series tickets for himself in 2016
3. Secure Hamilton tickets
4. Secure limo service
5. Agree with his wife on the securing of patio furniture
6. Vacation with the family in Florida
7. Secure van Transportation
8. Assist with moving his in-laws

Within the scope of this Enterprise and to further its affairs, John Doe 1 used the barter system to secure concert tickets for his adult children and for other personal desires.

C. COMMON PURPOSE OF THE ENTERPRISE

This Enterprise functioned as an ongoing organization with commonality of purpose or a guiding mechanism to direct the organization. From at least January 1, 2011, to August 1, 2021 the common purpose of the Enterprise regarding its ongoing illegal conduct was to steal money or covert money, property, or services owned by the Zoo, permanently depriving the Zoo of such property or services and to hide their conduct. Additionally, member(s) of the criminal Enterprise made false statements to investigators, i.e. Peter Fingerhut, investigating the activities of the enterprise and those within it in an attempt to cover up acts committed.

As stated above, each Person Associated with the Enterprise performed separate acts on behalf of and in furtherance of the Enterprise. The persons associated with this Enterprise were members of other entities so they needed to act in a structured and in an organized manner to enable the overall organization to successfully complete these schemes. Likewise, this occurred with the knowledge and/or support of other Persons Associated with the Enterprise in order that this Enterprise, as an association in fact, could continue and thrive because of the activities of each of the persons of the Enterprise.

This Enterprise functioned as a continuing unit with an ascertainable structure while it was engaging in the diverse forms of illegal activities. In doing so from the time stated herein, the Persons Associated with the Enterprise participated in and/or managed the affairs of the Enterprise as previously stated. As such, these persons provided continuity and structure to the Enterprise in order to accomplish its illegal purposes—the pattern of corrupt activity as set forth in this count. This Enterprise and the Persons Associated with the Enterprise were joined in purpose over a period of time, with various roles that were different, and with methods that changed in order to accomplish the main purpose of the Enterprise.

The structure of the organization, as an Enterprise in fact: Fingerhut negotiated contracts for the leasing of suites and loges purportedly on behalf of the Zoo but in reality, on behalf of himself, Greg Bell and Stalf. Greg Bell, Stalf, and Fingerhut signed off on the contracts at one point in time or another. Then each began their scheme to defraud the Zoo of money. Greg Bell as the CFO approved all payments and expenditures. Stalf as the CEO was aware that himself, Greg Bell, Fingerhut, and John Doe 1 were converting Zoo property to their own use, and he permitted it. Stalf found property he liked on the Barter network or elsewhere he then ordered Greg Bell to pay for it out of Zoo money despite the fact the property was for his personal or his family's personal use. Stalf and Fingerhut solicited and receive benefits from Zoo Vendors to corrupt themselves.

This Enterprise is comprised of the Persons Affiliated with the Enterprise, all of whom acted with the purpose described in this Indictment, and all of whom conducted their activities over a period of time for a common purpose. This Enterprise, as an informal association comprised of the Persons Associated with the Enterprise, functioned as a continuing unit, separate from the pattern of activity in which it engaged because one or more persons associated with this Enterprise performed legal acts as described herein. The non-exclusive list of lawful activities described herein occurred while this Enterprise functioned as a continuing unit and with an organization structure which engaged in diverse forms of illegal activities as stated in this Indictment.

While the persons associated with the Enterprise may have performed, from time to time, some lawful acts as described above, while working for entities connected with the Enterprise, these Persons, however, also performed illegal acts as part of and in furtherance of this Enterprise, as stated in this Indictment. Based on the foregoing, this Enterprise existed separate and apart from the pattern of corrupt activity in which it was engaged, and this Enterprise functioned as a continuing unit by engaging in the diverse forms of illegal activities, as stated in this Indictment.

In the alternative, this Enterprise is an “illicit enterprise” under R. C. Section 2932.32 which is one that is unlawful or engaged in prohibited activities. The schemes described in this indictment constitute prohibited activities. This illicit enterprise existed separate and apart from the pattern of corrupt activity as described in this Indictment even if it did not do legal transactions during this time period.

As a result of either one of these two situations, this Enterprise functioned as an organizational structure and as a continuing unit, even though it was engaging in the diverse forms of illegal activities as described in this Indictment. In either situation, the persons associated with the Enterprise participated in and/or managed the affairs of the Enterprise and as such provided continuity and structure to the Enterprise in order to accomplish its illegal purpose—the pattern of corrupt activity explained in this count. This enterprise and the persons associated within it were joined in purpose over a period of time, although their various roles were different in order to accomplish the main purpose of the Enterprise. All these schemes were necessary to make the overall organization successful as an Enterprise engaged in corrupt activity. These activities occurred with the knowledge and or support of and or were aided or abetted by each of the persons associated with the Enterprise.

D. AFFAIRS OF THE ENTERPRISE: The affairs of the Enterprise involve the jurisdiction of the State of Ohio with events taking place in Delaware, Franklin, Richland, and Cuyahoga Counties, as well as in other states such as Wisconsin, New York, Georgia, Louisiana, Michigan, and the District of Columbia, including but not limited to:

E. THE PATTERN OF CORRUPT ACTIVITY FROM January 2011 to May 2021.

A "Pattern of corrupt activity" means two or more incidents of corrupt activity, whether or not there has been a prior conviction, that are related to the affairs of the same enterprise, are not isolated, and are not so closely related to each other and connected in time and place that they constitute a single event. On two or more occasions, Person Associated with the Enterprise directly or indirectly committed one or more of the following:

1. THEFT: 2913.02 No person with purpose to deprive the owner, of property or services, to wit: money, knowingly obtain or exert control over either the property or services by deception when the amount involved was $7,500.00 or more.
2. TELECOMMUNICATIONS FRAUD: 2913.05 No person, having devised a scheme to defraud, shall knowingly disseminate, transmit, or cause to be disseminated or transmitted by means of a wire, radio, satellite, telecommunication, telecommunications device, or telecommunications service any writing, data, sign, signal, picture, sound, or image with purpose to execute or otherwise further the scheme to defraud.
3. TAMPERING WITH RECORDS: 2913.42. (A) No person, knowing the person has no privilege to do so, and with purpose to defraud or knowing that the person is facilitating a fraud,

Furthermore, the property or services stolen is valued at one million five hundred thousand dollars or more. Stealing more than $2,290,000.00 from the Columbus Zoo by a myriad of deceptive practices. Examples of such conduct may be found in the non-exclusive list found below:

THEFT BY STEALING FROM THE ZOO'S BARTER ACCOUNT

The following conduct relates to specific instances of theft which have been aggregated as required by law into one incident of corrupt activity: theft. Theft occurred in a myriad of ways as stated herein. What follows are examples of theft by members of the criminal enterprise. In addition each incident may be an incident of tampering with records for falsifying a record associated with the particular expense and an incident of telecommunication fraud if email was used or other internet type service.

THE BARTER ACCOUNT

The barter account which was set up for companies to trade its product for Zoo tickets was used by Greg Bell, Stalf, Fingerhut, and John Doe 1 for personal gain or use and not for legitimate Zoo related activities as seen below:

TAMPERING WITH GOVERNMENTAL RECORDS—TAX RETURN

The following incidents of corrupt activity relate to Stalf and Fingerhut falsifying their Federal and State Income tax returns by failing to report tens of thousands of dollars in income earned between 2015 and 2020. In addition to not reporting Bribe income the pair received during this period of time, the duo failed to report reportable income earned as follows:

1. Fingerhut and the Director of Marketing diverted funds allocated to certain media to a media company called Business 3. Business 3 had a program to award those who advertise on it meeting a high threshold of spending dollars by providing a cruise or a vacation to members of the organization.
2. Fingerhut diverted funds to Business 3 so that the Columbus Zoo, a non-profit/public organization would spend the amount of money needed so that Business 3 would provide Fingerhut and Stalf with the ability to benefit as other high-spending advertisers with Business 3 would.
3. Business 3, after a trip in 2017, on September 27, 2017 provided Greg Bell with the following document which is a sample of a letter received by Bell from 2015 to 2020.

Dear Sir or Madam,

First and most importantly, we want you to know how much we appreciate your business and the confidence you have shown by investing your advertising dollars with [REDACTED]

We are pleased that the Columbus Zoo and Aquarium qualified for our sales incentive trip to the Galapagos Islands from October 19-28, 2017. We hope that Pete and Joni Fingerhut are as excited about the trip as we are.

The value of this special trip is estimated at $26,000, or $13,000 per person. If you have questions regarding the taxability of the trip please consult your tax advisor for further guidance.

Again, we appreciate your business and hope Pete and Joni enjoy the trip.

Sincerely,

4. Upon receipt of a letter such as this Bell prepared 1099s for Fingerhut and Stalf. Stalf informed Bell that he would be fired if he handed him or processed the 1099s. The 1099s were destroyed. Fingerhut and Stalf's income tax returns for the applicable years do not show that these benefits were claimed as taxable income, which these benefits should have been listed as income but for Greg Bell was ordered not to provide 1099s.

INCIDENT FIFTY-THREE
Defendants
Date of Offense

Tampering with Records, §2913.42, F4
Tom Staf, Pete Fingerhut
On or about August 21, 2018

The Defendant(s) unlawfully did, knowing he had no privilege to do so, and with purpose to defraud or knowing he was facilitating a fraud on The Columbus Zoo and Aquarium aka the Columbus Zoological Park Association falsify, destroy, remove, conceal, alter, deface, or mutilate any writing, computer software, data, or record, to wit: Check Request Form and the value of the data or computer software involved in the offense or the loss to the victim was seven thousand five hundred dollars or more and was less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars. This count pertains to a check request form which stated a false reason why the Zoo funds were being spent when the actual reason Zoo funds were being spent was for the personal entertainment purposes of the defendant(s). Within this form, the reason for the expenditure of $50,000.00 of Zoo funds was falsified. The money was spent at the Schottenstein Center at OSU.

INCIDENT FIFTY-FOURTampering with Records, §2913.42, F4*Defendants

Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense

On or about March 25, 2017

The Defendant(s) unlawfully did, knowing he had no privilege to do so, and with purpose to defraud or knowing he was facilitating a fraud on The Columbus Zoo and Aquarium aka the Columbus Zoological Park Association falsify, destroy, remove, conceal, alter, deface, or mutilate any writing, computer software, data, or record, to wit: Invoice from The Ohio State University and the value of the data or computer software involved in the offense or the loss to the victim was seven thousand five hundred dollars or more and was less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars. This count pertains to an Invoice submitted to the Zoo by The Ohio State University in the amount of $31,600.00 for a suite in 2017. Fingerhut altered the document by cutting and pasting different language on the document to make it appear that the Zoo was paying for advertising when in fact it was not. Zoo funds were being spent was for the personal entertainment purposes of the defendant.

INCIDENT FIFTY-FIVETampering with Records, §2913.42, F5*Defendants

Tom Stalf

Date of Offense

On or about February 8, 2017

The Defendant(s) unlawfully did, knowing he had no privilege to do so, and with purpose to defraud or knowing he was facilitating a fraud on The Columbus Zoo and Aquarium aka the Columbus Zoological Park Association falsify, destroy, remove, conceal, alter, deface, or mutilate any writing, computer software, data, or record, to wit: Credit Card Authorization Form and the value of the data or computer software involved in the offense or the loss to the victim was one thousand dollars or more and was less than seven thousand five hundred dollars. Stalf did falsify a Credit Card Authorization Form so the Zoo would pay for personal expenses of the defendant of $4099.91.

INCIDENT FIFTY-SIXTelecommunications Fraud, §2913.05, F3*Defendants

Tom Stalf, Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense

On or about September 19, 2017

The Defendant(s) unlawfully having devised a scheme to defraud, did knowingly disseminate, transmit, or cause to be disseminated or transmitted by means of a wire, radio, satellite, telecommunication, telecommunications device, or telecommunication service any writing, data, sign, signal, picture, sound, or image with purpose to execute or otherwise further the scheme to defraud and the violation occurred as part of a course of conduct involving other violations of division (A) of this section or violations of, attempts to violate, conspiracies to violate, or complicity in violations of section 2913.02, 2913.04, 2913.11, 2913.21, 2913.31, 2913.42, 2913.43, or 2921.13 of the Revised Code and the value of the benefit obtained by the offender or of the detriment to the victim of the fraud is seven thousand five hundred dollars or more but less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars. Within the course of hiding the fact that the zoo was paying for a suite at "The Schott," the defendants participated in an email to further conceal that fact.

INCIDENT FIFTY-SEVENTelecommunications Fraud, §2913.05, F4*Defendants

Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense

On or about July 19, 2016

The Defendant(s) unlawfully having devised a scheme to defraud, did knowingly disseminate, transmit, or cause to be disseminated or transmitted by means of a wire, radio, satellite, telecommunication, telecommunications device, or telecommunication service any writing, data, sign, signal, picture, sound, or image with purpose to execute or otherwise further the scheme to defraud and the violation occurred as part of a course of conduct involving other violations of division (A) of this section or violations of, attempts to violate, conspiracies to violate, or complicity in violations of section 2913.02, 2913.04, 2913.11, 2913.21, 2913.31, 2913.42, 2913.43, or 2921.13 of the Revised Code and the value of the benefit obtained by the offender or of the detriment to the victim of the fraud is one thousand dollars or more but less than seven thousand five hundred dollars. This count pertains to the defendant falsifying Zoo records so that he and his wife could attend the Ohio State vs. Oklahoma game in Norman, OK with the Buckeye Boosters. Fingerhut emailed the Boosters the Zoo Credit Card number that he possessed to pay for a package including airfare, tickets to the football game, and lodging. He then falsified a Credit Card Authorization Form belonging to the Columbus Zoo asserting that the expense was for an advertisement when in fact the funds expended were for his wife and himself to eat, drink, and attend the Ohio State vs. Oklahoma football game in Norman, OK.

PROMO WEST

BOTH BEFORE AND AFTER THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS ISSUED AN ORDER THAT NO ZOO FUNDS WOULD BE PAID FOR EVENT TICKETS SUCH AS PROMOWEST FINGERHUT NEGOTIATED AND ENTERED INTO AN AGREEMENT WITH PROMOWEST FOR A SUITE AT CONCERTS. HE HAD BUSINESS 1 PAY FOR THE SUITE AND BILL THE ZOO FOR THE MONEY WHICH WAS PAID.

INCIDENT FIFTY-EIGHTTelecommunications Fraud, §2913.05, F3*Defendants

Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense

On or about April 12, 2019

The Defendant(s) unlawfully having devised a scheme to defraud, did knowingly disseminate, transmit, or cause to be disseminated or transmitted by means of a wire, radio, satellite, telecommunication, telecommunications device, or telecommunication service any writing, data, sign, signal, picture, sound, or image with purpose to execute or otherwise further the scheme to defraud and the violation occurred as part of a course of conduct involving other violations of division (A) of this section or violations of, attempts to violate, conspiracies to violate, or complicity in violations of section 2913.02, 2913.04, 2913.11, 2913.21, 2913.31, 2913.42, 2913.43, or 2921.13 of the Revised Code and the value of the benefit obtained by the offender or of the detriment to the victim of the fraud is seven thousand five hundred dollars or more but less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars. Fingerhut altered a contract with PromoWest so that it would appear to the Zoo that the Zoo was entering into an agreement with PromoWest for advertising when in fact the contract was for suites to events. Fingerhut did this after the Board of Directors of the Zoo ordered Fingerhut, Stalf and Greg Bell to divest the zoo of all suites and tickets. Fingerhut then emailed the contract back to PromoWest telling PromoWest to invoice the Zoo for Marketing and Advertising expenses when in fact the suite was for the personal enjoyment of Fingerhut and others.

INCIDENT FIFTY-NINE Telecommunications Fraud, §2913.05, F4

Defendants Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense On or about May 7, 2019

The Defendant(s) unlawfully having devised a scheme to defraud, did knowingly disseminate, transmit, or caused to disseminated or transmitted by means of wire, radio, satellite, telecommunication, telecommunications device, or telecommunication services any writing, data, sign, signal, picture, sound, image with purpose to execute or otherwise further the scheme to defraud and the value of the benefit obtained by the offender or of the detriment to the victim of the fraud is five thousand dollars or more but less than one hundred thousand dollars. After Fingerhut altered a contract with PromoWest disguising the true nature of the agreement he emailed a Zoo vendor (Business) and asked the Zoo vendor to invoice the Zoo for the cost of the suite and bill the Zoo for such cost.

INCIDENT SIXTY Tampering with Records, §2913.42, F5

Defendants Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense On or about May 7, 2019

The Defendant(s) unlawfully did, knowing he had no privilege to do so, and with purpose to defraud or knowing he was facilitating a fraud on The Columbus Zoo and Aquarium aka the Columbus Zoological Park Association falsify, destroy, remove, conceal, alter, deface, or mutilate any writing, computer software, data, or record, to wit: An Invoice and the value of the data or computer software involved in the offense or the loss to the victim was one thousand dollars or more and was less than seven thousand five hundred dollars. Fingerhut altered a contract with PromoWest so that it would appear to the Zoo that the Zoo was entering into an agreement with PromoWest for advertising when in fact the contract was for suites to events. Fingerhut did this after the Board of Directors of the Zoo ordered Fingerhut, Stalf, and Greg Bell to divest the Zoo of all suites and tickets. Fingerhut then emailed the contract back to PromoWest telling PromoWest to invoice the Zoo for Marketing and Advertising expenses when in fact the suite was for the personal enjoyment of Fingerhut and others. After Fingerhut altered a contract with PromoWest disguising the true nature of the agreement, he emailed a zoo vendor (Business 1) and asked the Zoo vendor to invoice the Zoo for the cost of the suite and bill the Zoo for such cost.

INCIDENT SIXTY-ONE Tampering with Records, §2913.42, F5

Defendants Pete Fingerhut

Date of Offense On or about July 15, 2014

The Defendant(s) unlawfully did, knowing he had no privilege to do so, and with purpose to defraud or knowing he was facilitating a fraud on The Columbus Zoo and Aquarium aka the Columbus Zoological Park Association falsify, destroy, remove, conceal, alter, deface, or mutilate any writing, computer software, data, or record, to wit: Dublin Irish Festival Invoice and the value of the data or computer software involved in the offense or the loss to the victim was one thousand dollars or more and was less than seven thousand five hundred dollars. This is the Dublin Irish Festival Ticket scam wherein Fingerhut falsified or had invoices falsified to the zoo asserting that the zoo was paying for advertising at the festival when in fact no advertising occurred. Rather, Zoo money was used for Fingerhut and his family to eat, drink, carouse, and entertain themselves who had rented a tent under an alias in some
