Narrative:

On July 14, 2026, at approximately 0540 hours, officers were dispatched for a noise complaint at Daniel Court Apartment 16A. [REDACTED] stated that an anonymous neighbor called and said that there were loud noises coming from the apartment and that the person that resides there had a warrant. [REDACTED] stated that dispatch confirmed that the subject, Gary Calloway, had a warrant from Union Township Police Department through Clermont County for theft. [REDACTED] said that he ran the subject through NCIC/LEADS in order to verify the physical characteristics of the subject and look at a photograph of the subject with the warrant.

[REDACTED] was on Tealtown Road and stated that he responded non-emergent, which took him approximately 10 minutes or less to arrive on scene. He said that the run was a two man call and that he arrived before his partner, [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] used his spotlight to approach and find the correct apartment. Once [REDACTED] arrived, officers walked up to the front of the apartment. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] said that while he was standing there, he could smell urine coming from the air conditioning unit and described it as "extremely pungent." [REDACTED] told him that the subject may be bipolar and schizophrenic. [REDACTED] stated that he is Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) certified and it is important to know when officers are handling incidents involving mental health.

[REDACTED] stated that he knocked on the front door and looked in the apartment window. He said that the blinds were open, and he could see a couch and TV lights flashing, but no one answered. [REDACTED] said that he moved his position and could see farther into the apartment through the window. [REDACTED] said that he observed Calloway sitting in a chair in front of the TV. He stated that the male inside matched the photograph and physical description of the subject with the warrant.

[REDACTED] knocked on the door again and saw Calloway get up. [REDACTED] addressed Calloway by his first name (Gary), as another step to confirm that he was talking to the correct individual. He said that Calloway responded, and [REDACTED] told him that officers were there for a noise complaint. Calloway told officers that he heard the noise too, stated it was a loud boom, and said that it wasn't coming from his apartment. [REDACTED] explained that someone else called about the noise coming from inside of Calloway's apartment. Calloway invited officers to come inside and listen to the noise. Officers walked inside and [REDACTED] stated that Calloway turned down the TV and the sound bar, which caused the noise to stop.

[REDACTED] said that he told Calloway that he had a warrant. Calloway said that he didn't have a warrant and stated that it was someone else who had been stealing plants. [REDACTED] told Calloway to put his hands behind his back. As soon as [REDACTED] reached out to touch him, he said that Calloway threw his hands up. [REDACTED] said that Calloway had a tennis ball in his hand and told him that he was the police.

[REDACTED] said that he got a hold of Calloway's left arm and [REDACTED] got a hold of his right arm. [REDACTED] said that he believed they were trying to take him to the ground. He said that due to Calloway's large stature, he stumbled forward before losing balance, and they ended up on the couch. [REDACTED] said that Calloway's midline hit the couch and he was in a kneeling position bent over the couch. [REDACTED] maintained control of Calloway's left arm, which he had behind his back. [REDACTED] had lost control of Calloway's right arm, which was now underneath his body.

[REDACTED] said that he had his right leg wrapped around Calloway's legs because he kept trying to "buck up, walk his legs up, and get out from under us." He said that he used his leg to keep Calloway in a position of control. [REDACTED] said that he got his handcuffs out and was able to get a cuff on Calloway's left arm. [REDACTED] said that Calloway was still fighting pretty good and kept trying to pull his arm around.

[REDACTED] described that he wasn't on top of Calloway. He said that he had control with the cuff at that point but didn't want to lose control of the handcuffed arm because Calloway could swing it like a weapon. [REDACTED] said that [REDACTED] was still trying to get Calloway's right arm. Both officers were giving verbal commands to "stop resisting" and "give us your hand." [REDACTED] said that Calloway was screaming and stating, "no" and "I can't move."

[REDACTED] said that Calloway was constantly communicating and physically trying to buck up, kick his legs out, and pull his arm from him. [REDACTED] described it as active tension, where Calloway was trying to get his wrist from him. He said that he was in a good position of control with his shoulder on the arm of the couch, and his forearm on Calloway holding his arm. [REDACTED] said that he did not have any body weight on Calloway because each officer had a side.

[REDACTED] asked [REDACTED] if he could get to his ASP baton. [REDACTED] told him that he could not, so [REDACTED] deployed his ASP and handed it to [REDACTED]. He said that [REDACTED] used the asp to try and gain leverage on the arm tucked under Calloway's body. He said that the ASP was slipping possibly due to the amount of urine on the couch. [REDACTED] said that him and [REDACTED] were covered in Calloway's urine. Officers decided to wait for another unit to assist, due to Calloway's large stature. [REDACTED] said that he got out a second set of handcuffs and attached them to the cuffed left wrist. He described that using a second set of handcuffs would be easier and less stress on Calloway's shoulders.

[REDACTED] arrived on scene and was able to assist [REDACTED] remove Calloway's right arm and place it in handcuffs. [REDACTED] told Calloway to sit up and there was no response. Officers rolled Calloway to his side, and [REDACTED] said that Calloway's face was blue. [REDACTED] said that he immediately thought that Calloway had suffered from some sort of cardiac event due to the struggle.

[REDACTED] said that he told officers to start CPR and went to retrieve an AED from his cruiser. He went back inside and placed the AED pads on Calloway. The AED advised no shock, and then chest impressions and CPR were started by other officers. [REDACTED] estimated that the AED cycled three times before the medics got there and all three times no shock was advised. When asked, [REDACTED] stated that he is trained and certified to use the AED and administer CPR.

Officer Involved Critical Incident - 640 Daniel Court #16A,
Cincinnati, OH 45244 (L)

██████████ said that he has been involved with numerous incidents of people resisting arrest. He described this incident as more of a power struggle than anything. He said there were no strikes, blows, or knee strikes. ██████████ said that officers had half the control and they were just trying to get his other arm.

SA Frazier asked approximately how long the struggle lasted. ██████████ estimated around 60 to 90 seconds. SA Frazier asked if Calloway showed any obvious signs of mental health issues. ██████████ said that he had made some unusual statements but there was nothing else obvious. When asked, ██████████ stated that he has not had any prior contact with Calloway. SA Frazier asked ██████████ where Calloway's face was during the struggle. He said that Calloway was faced down in a gap of the couch but said that he could turn his head and his head was moving. SA Frazier asked ██████████ to describe "bucking up." He said that Calloway was actively pushing against him with his legs and hips to try and stand up.

SA Frazier asked what the lighting conditions were inside of the residence. ██████████ said that the only light was the TV, so it was dark in there. SA Frazier asked ██████████ if he believed that Calloway had urinated during the struggle. He said that he believes he urinated beforehand because of where the urine was and the strong odor upon entering the apartment. SA Frazier asked if Calloway was armed with anything other than the tennis ball and he stated he was not. SA Frazier asked if ██████████ observed any other signs of Calloway experiencing a medical emergency and he stated he did not.

SA Frazier asked if he believed his actions were consistent with his training and he stated, absolutely. ██████████ stated that he has viewed his body worn camera (BWC) video. SA Frazier asked if viewing his BWC video changed his perception of anything that happened and he stated it did not.

The interview concluded at approximately 1032 hours. The interview was audio recorded and has been uploaded and stored on Axon/Evidence.com. The signed BCI Criminal Investigation Notification form is also attached to this report. Please see the attachment for further details.
