

In view of the foregoing, and in specific answer to your question, it is my opinion, and you are advised:

1. A member of the public may inspect the public records of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, for the purpose of making an audit or survey of the administration of the Workmen's Compensation fund, subject only to the limitations that such inspection does not endanger the safety of the record or unreasonably interfere with the discharge of the duties of the commission.

2. In making such an inspection, the person or persons making the same are entitled to examine all public records of the Industrial Commission, as provided in Sections 871-9, 1465-40 and 1465-41, General Code, including (1) sessions of the commission, (2) official record of proceedings, (3) separate record of proceedings relating to claims, (4) statistical data compiled from annual reports and other information from employers, (5) actuarial audits, and (6) such of the bookkeeping records as do not fall within the provisions of Sections 1465-45 and 1465-46 of the General Code. By the express terms of Section 1465-46, General Code, an inspection may not be made of the information contained in the annual report required to be made under Section 1465-45 or of other information furnished to the commission by employers in pursuance of the provisions of said section.

Respectfully,

THOMAS J. HERBERT,
Attorney General.
