

"To establish and maintain an association for charitable and beneficial purposes, to assist and provide for the sick, needy and disabled members, and provide for the wants of the orphans, widows and/or dependents of disabled or deceased members, in such manner, in such terms and conditions as shall be provided in present or future by-laws of the Association."

It is apparent that this association seeks to do insurance business, and I do not find that it comes within any of the exemptions of section 9491, General Code. Consequently, this association, in my opinion, cannot be incorporated under the General Corporation Act but must comply with the insurance laws of the State in its organization.

I am therefore returning the articles, together with the Constitution and By-laws, to you without my approval.

Respectfully,
JOHN W. BRICKER,
Attorney General.
