Carnahan told Millhorn that they needed an AED (Automated External Defibrillator). Millhorn exited the Amvets and searched for an AED in his cruiser. Millhorn was unable to locate an AED in his vehicle. As Millhorn walked back toward the Amvets, a firefighter/medic can be seen standing by the Amvets side door [8:41]. Millhorn stood near Carnahan as Carnahan spoke to CPD Officer Camden Burch (Burch). For additional information please refer to the report titled "2024-05-14: SCSO Deputy Chad Carnahan BWC review."

At 12:05, medics brought a gurney into the Amvets. At 16:20, dispatch informed Millhorn that Frank Tyson had a warrant out of Columbus ODRC (Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction) for burglary. At 16:57, Millhorn exited his vehicle at the scene of the car crash on Sherrick Road. As Millhorn walked further down Sherrick Road, the broken utility pole is visible. At 20:50, Millhorn exited his vehicle which is now back at the Amvets. At 21:14, Millhorn entered the Amvets. At that time, Tyson has already been transported to the hospital by medics.

At 25:44, Millhorn approached Burch. Millhorn asked Burch who was all on scene when Carnahan showed up. Burch stated that it was just him and Schoenegge (CPD Officer Beau Schoenegge). Millhorn then asked if they saw Tyson running to the Amvets. Burch stated that Schoenegge was dispatched to the call and the call notes indicated that there was a neighbor that saw the crash and the neighbor was trying to keep the vehicle driver on scene. Burch stated that he arrived on scene before Schoenegge and at that time no one was down by the utility pole. Schoenegge arrived and then someone came from the Amvets and told them that the driver was inside of the bar and was acting crazy and freaking everybody out. Burch said that he and Schoenegge went to the Amvets front door where the male was yelling at them. They began fighting with the male for about 30-40 seconds before getting the male to the ground and handcuffed. Burch left to retrieve his cruiser which was still parked down the street by the utility pole. When Burch returned to the Amvets the male was "a lot more quiet, so then I called for medics" [27:21]. Burch said that was when the first deputy (Carnahan) arrived. Millhorn asked Burch if they stuck the male during the fight. Burch stated that they did not strike him, they were just trying to get him to the ground. Millhorn asked if the male hit his head. Burch said no and that the male was still yelling at them when he was on the ground. At 28:47, the conversation with Burch ended.
