

A paper of general circulation is one not devoted to any single or particular object, but is devoted to matters pertaining to and of concern to the whole community and of public and common interest. The purposes to which the paper is devoted must be of common interest to many."

It is not necessary to subscribe to all of the tests noted in the authorities above cited in order to reach the conclusion that the publication mentioned in the question submitted by you is not a newspaper of general circulation within the meaning of Section 2293-28, General Code. In any county bond buyers are a very small part of the whole number of persons in such county ordinarily reached by a newspaper of general circulation. Therefore, I am of the opinion that the question submitted by you must be answered in the negative.

Respectfully,
EDWARD C. TURNER,
Attorney General.
