Narrative:

On Thursday, April 3, 2025, Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation Special Agent Lauren Frazier received body-worn and fleet camera footage from Ohio State Highway Patrol Sergeant Michael Butler. On the same date, SA Frazier requested BCI Special Agent Steven Seitzman review the footage of Ohio State Highway Patrol [REDACTED].

SA Seitzman utilized Amped Replay to review [REDACTED] body-worn and fleet camera footage. The footage was downloaded from Axon Evidence.com for the review. The following two videos were reviewed:

File Name	Playback Fps	Length (frames)	Duration (time)

Axon Fleet Camera Footage

The video began at approximately 2311 hours, according to the timestamp. Throughout the first several minutes, [REDACTED] attempted to locate a vehicle. At approximately 2315 hours, according to the timestamp, [REDACTED] radioed, "Confirm 100. He's driving in the right shoulder now." A vehicle can then be seen driving the wrong way on the highway. See Figure 1 below.

[REDACTED] then requested permission to make "intentional contact" over the radio. He was given permission, and at approximately 2316 hours, according to the timestamp, he struck the rear of the vehicle on the driver's side. As [REDACTED] cruiser moved up toward the driver's door, the female operator of the vehicle could be seen brandishing an apparent handgun in her right hand. See Figures 2 and 3 below.

[REDACTED] confirmed over the radio that the vehicle was stopped and yelled, "She's got a gun!" He made several commands for the operator to show her hands, not to move, and to refrain from reaching for anything. The female operator can be heard saying, "Can I ask you a question, sir? I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I just... I was out of town for a day." [REDACTED] instructed her not to drop her hands, to which she replied, "I won't. I won't. I'm... I'm sorry." The female operator said, "I'm sorry" twice, and shortly thereafter, at approximately 2317 hours according to the timestamp (approximately frame 10316), [REDACTED] discharged his weapon at the subject. The remainder of the incident will be summarized below in the review of [REDACTED] body-worn camera footage.

Body-Worn Camera Footage

At approximately 2316 hours, according to the timestamp, [REDACTED] made intentional contact with the involved subject's vehicle. At frame 1948, the involved subject can be seen holding an apparent handgun in her right hand. See Figure 4 below.

At frame 2013, the female subject can be seen with both of her hands open, indicating that, at least for a period of time, she had dropped the gun. The female subject was also wearing a helmet. See figure 5 below.

At frame 2316, the female subject can be seen holding a black object, which resembled the gun she had brandished approximately a minute before. See Figure 6 below.

From approximately frames 4383 through 4458, [REDACTED] fired 12 rounds at the subject from the front area of his cruiser on the driver's side. At approximately frame 4863, [REDACTED] fired one last round at the subject from the rear driver's side of his cruiser. [REDACTED] radioed that shots had been fired and that the subject was still moving. At approximately 2318, according to the timestamp, [REDACTED] moved his cruiser off of the involved subject's vehicle while Union Township police officers provided cover. As he did so, the involved subject's vehicle began to roll west toward the right shoulder. As the vehicle was rolling, a Union Township police officer [REDACTED], who was not in the camera frame, could be heard firing six rounds from approximately frames 7069 to 7113. The vehicle continued to roll until it struck a Jersey barrier atop the overpass.

At approximately 2320 hours, according to the timestamp, [REDACTED] used his collapsible baton to shatter the front passenger window of the involved subject's vehicle. As [REDACTED] was working to extract the involved subject from the vehicle, a visible injury could be seen on his right hand. See Figure 7 below. The involved subject could be seen leaning into the front passenger seat on top of several bags. Officers removed the bags, and a gun was then visible on the roadway outside the front passenger door. The gun appeared to have a seated magazine. At approximately 2320 hours, according to the timestamp (approximately frame 9959), [REDACTED] removed the involved subject from the vehicle. See Figure 8 below depicting the gun lying on the roadway.

[REDACTED] picked up the gun and placed it on the hood of another Ohio State Highway Patrol cruiser (Trooper Jason Byron). At approximately 2320 hours, according to the timestamp, Ohio State Highway Patrol Sergeant Westhoven arrived, and [REDACTED] told him, "I got the firearm on his hood. She picked it right up, man." He then told Sergeant Westhoven, "I need a break. I just need to calm down for a minute." He told Sergeant Westhoven that shots were fired and the suspect's gun was on the hood of a police cruiser. He was clearly emotional throughout the duration of the video. He told Sergeant Westhoven that he was going to secure the involved subject's gun, and he then ejected the magazine from it. He was obviously emotional throughout the duration of the video. See Figures 9, 10, and 11 below.

[REDACTED] secured the involved subject's dog in the rear of his cruiser. He then placed the involved subject's gun on the hood of his cruiser and remarked, "Oh man, it didn't even have a mag in it. Why'd she do that? Oh man..." Evidently forgetting that he had just ejected the magazine prior to securing the dog. At approximately 2322 hours, according to the timestamp, [REDACTED] told Sergeant Westhoven, "I shot. Dammit, man. Freakin' held it right up to me. Held it up to me. I told her several times to just drop the gun. It wasn't even loaded... Her dog is in my car. Her dog took rounds. I think I shot the dog." [REDACTED], again, became noticeably emotional and had difficulty speaking coherently. Sergeant Westhoven then had him sit in the front passenger seat of Trooper Byron's cruiser. [REDACTED] told Sergeant Westhoven that he cleared the gun and placed it on the hood of his cruiser.

[REDACTED] sat in the driver's seat of Trooper Byron's cruiser for several minutes. He later got out of the cruiser and muted his body-worn camera for administrative purposes. At approximately 2344 hours, according to the timestamp, [REDACTED] handed an object to Trooper Byron. See Figure 12 below. (Agent's Note: During Trooper Byron's video review, it was learned that the object he handed to Trooper Byron was a keyfob).

[REDACTED] camera terminated at approximately 2349 hours, according to the timestamp.

SA Seitzman created clips from the video at SA Frazier's request. Those video clips and related Amped Replay reports were labeled and stored on Axon Evidence.com under case ID #2025-1049.
