

given upon said premises by W. S. Barton. These leases and easements should be considered in order that it may be determined to what, if any extent, the same may affect the enjoyment of the premises for the purpose the state intends to use them.

In view of the foregoing, it is evident that the title can not be approved until such time as the abstract is corrected or supplemented, correcting the objections hereinbefore noted.

Said abstract, deed and encumbrance estimate are returned herewith.

Respectfully,

EDWARD C. TURNER,

Attorney General.
