

to the price regularly charged for lots therein a sum for said purpose or may receive gifts for said purpose or may enter into separate agreements with the purchasers of such lots whereby an agreed part of the purchase price of said lot or lots shall be and constitute a permanent fund, or may receive individual gifts for said fund, the income thereof to be used for the upkeep and care of such lot or lots and when any such fund or funds shall have been received or created the same shall be a permanent fund for such use and the income therefrom shall be used for the said purpose and for no other purpose and the principal sum shall be kept and invested under the same terms and conditions fixed by law for the investment of the funds of a minor by his guardian."

When this board is elected they themselves are responsible for all funds. They have full control and assume full responsibility and would be the proper custodian of all securities. Should said board have a clerk, he would be the proper custodian of securities.

It is to be understood that the law is not definite as to who the proper officer to hold securities is and that the above opinion is meant only to suggest what is believed to be the better practice.

Respectfully,
JOHN G. PRICE,
Attorney-General.
