On March 7, 2024, Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) Crime Scene Technician (CST) Amy Gill responded to the BCI Main Office located in London, Ohio to repackage items collected during an ongoing officer involved critical incident investigation. Lisa Graham, the mother of the involved individual Holly Graham, had requested to get back some items of jewelry her daughter had been wearing at the time of the incident. Franklin County Prosecutor's Office Chief Counsel Marla Farbacher approved the release of the items.

At approximately 1015 hours, CST Gill met with BCI Administrative Professional (AP) Gregory Dunham and BCI Special Agent (SA) Matthew Collins in the secured BCI Major Crimes Evidence Vault. A brown bag labeled as Scene 3, Item 2 was in the vault and opened. A silver necklace, brown stone pendant, and two rings were removed. The bag was then re-sealed, and a notation was made on the bag as to the removed items. SA Collins took custody of the jewelry items. The original brown bag was returned to the vault.
