When Pickett made the claims about the eviction, Rucker said she was already in the process of moving.
The next hearing is scheduled for Sept. 11.

In July, Rucker filed a motion for withdrawal from the case, and to Court records show Pickett is curly representing herself.

On Aug. 11, Briskman's lawyer filed a motion for sanctions against Rucker, saying he did not thoroughly vet his client's claims.

In a response to the sanctions motion filed Aug. 15, Rucker's lawyer said Rucker convinced his client to dismiss her counterclaim when it was discovered her claims were "likely based on a lie."

Rucker could not be reached for comment at the time of this report.
Making a false statement to federal officers is punishable by up to years in prison.

Destroying, altering, or records in a federal investigation is a potential penalty years in prison.
