★ OHIO ATTORNEY GENERAL ★

Dear Law Enforcement Colleagues and Fellow Ohioans,

The work of the Ohio Attorney General's Peace Office Training Commission and Academy helps ensure our law enforcement officers are well-prepared to meet their responsibilities in communities across the state. Both made significant gains in fiscal 2012, the period covered by this report.

Among other accomplishments, the Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy (OPOTA) laid the groundwork for its new Mobile Academy, which we introduced in December 2012. Aimed at helping local agencies save money and limit officers' time away from the job, the Mobile Academy features state-of-the-art firearms simulators, driving simulators, and expert trainers.

This new way of doing business puts Ohio at the forefront in taking innovative training directly to local law enforcement. Most importantly, it helps peace officers build skills in some of the highest risk duties they face, situations that require quick and sound decision-making in order to save lives.

The Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission (OPOTC) and its staff continued their comprehensive update of the state's basic training curricula. Updates were made in fiscal 2012 to peace officer basic training, peace officer refresher, and private security basic training courses. This effort ensures these training curricula reflect best practices and prioritize the safety and well-being of Ohio families and peace officers.

This annual report details our work to provide the best possible training and resources to Ohio's law enforcement community. I welcome your feedback, and I encourage you to share your suggestions with Robert Fiatal, executive director of the commission and academy, at 740-845-2700 or Robert.Fiatal@OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov.

Very respectfully yours,

Mike DeWine
Ohio Attorney General

Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission Overview

The Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission advises the Attorney General and provides direction to the executive director on training, eligibility, and service standards for Ohio law enforcement and other public safety professionals. The commission's ultimate goal is to ensure the highest level of safety for the citizens of Ohio.

OPOTC has worked to improve the professional capabilities of Ohio's law enforcement and public safety professionals since 1965. With the assistance of 65 dedicated employees and the executive director, the commission's nine members play a pivotal role in helping the Ohio Attorney General shape training and compliance standards for more than 33,000 peace officers and their 978 respective agencies.

The commission also is responsible for academic policies and professional standards for tens of thousands of corrections officers, bailiffs, jailers, private security officers, adult parole officers, probation officers, humane agents, public defender investigators, and law enforcement canine units.

Commission members are appointed by the governor and approved by the Ohio Senate. The Ohio Attorney General provides administrative oversight for the commission.

To fulfill its statutory responsibility and improve law enforcement training in Ohio, the commission's role is to recommend:

- Rules for approving peace officer, private security, humane agent, jailer, corrections, public defender investigator, bailiff, canine, and firearms training and certification
- The curricula, minimum attendance, equipment, and facility requirements necessary for approval of training programs
- Minimum qualifications required for instructors at approved training sites
- Categories or classifications of advanced in-service training programs for peace officers
- Minimum requirements for the certification of canine units utilized by law enforcement agencies

The commission also is authorized to:

- Recommend studies, surveys, and reports designed to evaluate its own effectiveness
- Visit and inspect Ohio peace officer training schools
- Establish fees for commission services
- Make recommendations to the Attorney General or General Assembly on the commission's statutory responsibilities

Commission Highlights

Updating basic training curricula

OPOTC and its staff continued to evaluate, revise, and implement numerous topics within multiple basic training programs in fiscal 2012. The revisions are being guided by a Job Task Analysis that drew feedback from more than 2,300 officers and 1,000 front-line supervisors from more than 800 of Ohio's 978 law enforcement agencies.

Within the peace officer basic training (POBT) program, 32 topics totaling 111 training hours were revised and became effective July 1, 2011. The changes followed a thorough review of the entire curriculum and were selected on the basis of officer safety issues and outdated legal material. The updates also were included in the POBT refresher program. A second round of basic training revisions was released Nov. 1, 2011, and became effective Jan. 1, 2012. These changes encompassed the POBT, refresher, and private security training programs. Thirty-two topics totaling 184 training hours were reviewed and revised by subject matter experts and provided to the state's basic training academies. Lesson plans covering 31 topics and 243 training hours were released May 1, 2012, for the POBT, refresher, and private security basic programs and became effective July 1, 2012.

As review of the curricula continues, the commission remains committed to providing current, pertinent, and industry best-practice material to its basic academy students while incorporating instructional techniques that reflect the most effective adult learning theories.

Providing resources electronically

The commission provides many of its resources electronically to allow agencies greater access to services and information.

In fiscal 2012, OPOTA introduced online registration for its regional and on-campus courses, allowing officers to search and register for courses through the Ohio Law Enforcement Gateway (OHLEG) at www.OHLEG.org. Designated agency "approvers" receive an e-mail alerting them to training requests and, once approved, the officer and approver receive e-mail confirmation. Approvers can view their officers' OPOTA training history to enhance agency training records.

The OPOTA Course Catalog at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/OPOTACourses lists classes available around the state and at the London and Richfield OPOTA campuses. Users can search by subject matter for full details of available classes.

Peace officers throughout Ohio can access the academy's online courses 24/7 through eOPOTA, which is available on OHLEG. Some courses of general interest — such as a series of classes on human trafficking — also are offered to the public via the Ohio Attorney General's website at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov.

The peace officer basic training, refresher training, private security academic curricula, and instructional resources also have been placed on OHLEG to provide easy access for commanders and instructors.

The commission also offers a convenient electronic Law Enforcement Directory, which provides contact information for Ohio police chiefs and sheriffs and links to the Ohio State Highway Patrol, state agencies, and correctional facilities. The directory can be found at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/LawEnforcementDirectory. Law enforcement officers throughout the state can update their contact information at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/OPOTAUpdate to ensure they receive electronic communications from the academy and commission.

Constituents also can e-mail OPOTA with general, certification, or training questions (askOPOTA@OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov); to register for or seek information on courses (OPOTARegistration@OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov); and to transmit agency changes of officer status or new appointments (SF400@OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov).

Supporting local drug education programs

The Attorney General's Office awarded $3.8 million to 190 Ohio law enforcement agencies in May 2012 through the Drug Use Prevention Grant program, which supports the salaries of peace officers who offer drug use prevention education in Ohio public schools.

The funding allowed 309 Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) and school resource officers to reach nearly 340,000 students statewide with anti-drug messaging. The program also provides DARE workbooks to officers at no cost and supports the DARE Officer Training and School Resource Officer Basic Training Programs.

During fiscal 2012, 103 officers were trained as new DARE and school resource officers at the OPOTA London and Richfield campuses.

Updating firearms qualification standards

OPOTC works to ensure that the requalification program required annually of all Ohio peace officers authorized to carry firearms is in line with best practices and that the qualification standard taught in basic academies reflects that of active officers. In November 2011, the commission approved a new pistol requalification course of fire. The course was optional for agencies during 2012, giving them time to become familiar with it and exhaust existing materials. Basic academies also were provided with the new course to begin using after Jan. 1, 2013. A panel of experts was assembled in fiscal 2012 to update the shotgun requalification course.

Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy Overview

Groundwork was laid for OPOTA's establishment in 1970 when then-Gov. James Rhodes signed House Bill 1160, authorizing the Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission to launch its own training academy. The academy opened in 1976 and has since become recognized as a national leader in advanced training for law enforcement.

OPOTA utilizes the latest research and instructional methods to develop outstanding training programs that meet the needs of law enforcement professionals and the communities they serve. Courses are offered at the academy's main campus and Tactical Training Center, both in London, at a satellite campus in Richfield, at Mobile Academy trainings throughout the state, and online through eOPOTA.

Courses cover a wide array of topics pertinent to today's law enforcement community – from latent fingerprint development, shooting reconstruction, and instructional skills to report writing, criminal investigation, and first-line supervision.

The academy is committed to:

- Providing outstanding instruction to the Ohio law enforcement community
- Promoting rapid student development through the use of superior training methods
- Continually upgrading course content by incorporating the latest research and recommended professional practices
- Stimulating inquiry and providing fresh perspectives within the law enforcement profession

Academy Highlights

Introducing the Mobile Academy

OPOTA laid the groundwork during fiscal 2012 for a new Mobile Academy, launched in December 2012. The academy – which takes instruction on the road with state-of-the-art firearms and driving simulators – makes training even more convenient and cost-effective for law enforcement agencies across Ohio. Of the 14 simulators being incorporated into OPOTA instruction, eight were authorized following positive feedback from local law enforcement at the Attorney General's 2012 Law Enforcement Conference.

Regional trainings and subject control courses also are part of the Mobile Academy's offerings. More than 157 regional training sessions were conducted across the state in fiscal 2012, up from 143 the previous year. The courses cover a wide array of valuable topics and are available at no cost to local departments.

Attorney General Mike DeWine has made it a priority to increase the number of trainings available regionally and to schedule them within an hour's drive of most law enforcement agencies. Whenever possible, trainings are held at large venues close to major interstates and with free parking. In addition to OPOTA instructors, the faculty includes law enforcement professionals, higher education instructors, medical personnel, and others who regularly practice what they teach.

Bolstering online courses

OPOTA also has greatly expanded its free eOPOTA online courses, provided via secure Internet link through the Attorney General's Ohio Law Enforcement Gateway (OHLEG) at www.OHLEG.org.

As local budgets continue to shrink, eOPOTA has allowed agencies to save travel and overtime expenses, reducing the financial burden on departments and taxpayers. Seventy-two eOPOTA courses were available in fiscal 2012, up from 56 in fiscal 2011. More than 6,111 Ohio peace officers took eOPOTA courses, completing 23,545 individual course sessions.

Holding Flagship Agency status

OPOTA is considered a Flagship Agency by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA), an internationally recognized credentialing body. The status is held by public safety agencies across the country that demonstrate success in the CALEA accreditation process and serve as a model for how to address compliance, policy development, record maintenance, and other issues. Member organizations are assessed every three years.

CALEA assessment teams conduct site visits to determine agencies' compliance with standards, view facilities and records, and hold a public information session. Flagship Agency status recognizes academies and law enforcement agencies based on past accreditation records, the most recent assessment, and overall professional standing in the public safety community.

CALEA was created in 1979 by law enforcement's major executive associations. Its accreditation programs are designed to improve the delivery of public safety services and recognize professional excellence.

2012 Ohio Peace Officers' Memorial Ceremony

Perhaps the best way to understand the magnitude of these commission and academy activities is to pay a visit to the Ohio Fallen Officers' Memorial Wall, located at OPOTA's London Campus.

Here, the names of 749 fallen Ohio peace officers killed in the line of duty since 1823 are forever etched in the memorial's walls. They serve as a constant reminder of just how important the training function is to the brave men and women behind the badge.

The annual Ohio Peace Officers' Memorial Ceremony is held the first Thursday in May to honor officers who gave their lives in the line of duty the year before.

Those honored in 2012 were:

- Deputy Susanne M. Hopper, Clark County Sheriff's Office, whose end of watch came Jan. 1, 2011
- Officer Thomas R. Hayes, Columbus Division of Police, who passed away Jan. 20, 2011, from injuries sustained in 1979

- Police Officer Andrew S. Dunn, Sandusky Police Department, whose end of watch came March 19, 2011
- Sergeant Brian S. Dulle, Warren County Sheriff's Office, whose end of watch came May 10, 2011
