Officer McBane and Probationary Officer Jernigan were at Livingston and Parsons when radio dispatch advised that there was a county unit receiving gunfire at 3110 E. Livingston. was armed with his patrol rifle and was covering the upper windows of the building while other officers made entry into the rear doors. The officers began clearing the building and ended up downstairs in the basement or lower level. Officer McBane heard radio traffic from units at the front door advising units in the basement "Don't open that door". Shortly after the radio traffic regarding the door, Officer McBane heard a volley of gunfire he estimated at 40 rounds. Officer McBane stated that an officer then ran out of the building. Officer McBane assumed the officer had been injured and he and other units pushed in to the building towards the threat.

Officer McBane was the first through the door and ran up to where the subject was laying. Officer McBane asked what apartment the subject had come out of assuming there might be additional danger, and he stepped over the subject and cleared the additional area beyond the landing. Officer McBane then began issuing instruction to other officers to clear out the apartments and start securing the scene. Officer McBane then began attempting to secure witnesses. Officer McBane ended up taking custody of a the male White witness (who may have been the original reporting party) in the Steelers jacket from a county unit.
