

fer, by the county commissioners to a board of trustees, of full control and management of the memorial and authorizing the latter board to lease any portion of the memorial building and apply the income received therefrom toward the maintenance of such building and authorizing them to receive any proper contributions or donations and to receive and disburse such funds as the county commissioners shall contribute for the equipment and maintenance of said building.

I am unable to find in any of the said sections and supplemental sections any provision which authorizes either the county commissioners or the trustees of the memorial building, to use public funds to pay off a promissory note that was negotiated by one of the donors to the original construction fund. To my mind, the obligation clearly is not a county obligation. While the proceeds of the note may have been and no doubt were used to construct the memorial building, yet the source of the money donated imposes no obligation on the donee thereof to pay the bank who loaned it to the donor.

No specific provision having been made in the statutes to which you refer to take care of such indebtedness and being unable to find any provision in any of the other statutes germane to the subject, I am of the opinion that the county commissioners are without power to transfer any funds to the board of trustees of the memorial for the purpose of paying the promissory note mentioned.

Respectfully,
EDWARD C. TURNER,
Attorney General.
